CREEDS.

Believe as I believe—no more, no less;
That I am right, and no one else, confess;
Feel as I feel, think only as I think;
Eat what I eat, and drink but what I drink;
Look as I look, do always as I do,
And then, and only then, I'll fellowship with you.

That I am right, and always right, I know,
Because my own convictions tell me so;
And to be right is simply this—to be
Entirely and in all respects like me;
To devote a hair's breadth, or begin
To question, doubt or hesitate in sin.

I reverence the Bible if it be
Translated first and then explained to me;
By churchly laws and customs I abide,
If they with my opinions coincide;
All creeds and doctrines I concede divine,
Excepting those, of course, that disagree with mine.

Let sink the drowning if he will not swim
Upon the plank that I throw out to him;
Let starve the hungry if he will not eat
My kind and quantity of bread and meat;
Let freeze the naked if he will not be
Clothed in such garments as are made for me.

'Twere better that the sick should die than live
Unless they take the medicine I give;
'Twere better sinners perish than reduce
To be confirmed by my peculiar views;
'Twere better that the world should still than move
In any other way than that which I approve.

THE FIRST BOOK OF CHRONICLES.

CHAPTER V.

AFTER many days had passed, Clarence and Alonzo met under the shadow of the wall.

And Clarence said unto Alonzo, Know ye that the tabernacle will soon be ready and we have no one to occupy it and reign over our sons and daughters.

We want a man of great renown, profound in learning and well versed in all the languages of earth.

Such a man will require many shekels for his service.

And behold, we have not the money to pay him, and I am much perplexed by reason thereof.

Alonzo sighed and said, We will not trouble the brethren about this matter. We will go to Balaal and whatsoever he commands we will do and the brethren will consent.

And Clarence and Alonzo humbled themselves and went unto Balaal.

And Balaal said, Thou shalt write another book, and thou shalt write in the book that the people shall be taxed another amount just equal to that written in the first book.

And they shall pay the two sums, and thou wilt be able to recompense thy Governor.

And Samuel shall bear this book up to the Sanhedrin also, and have it sealed.

And they returned unto Samuel and told him all that had happened.

And Samuel said, I will go up.

And they said, See here, Samuel, there is another little matter for thee to attend to.

Wash, who thou knowest is a leader of the Gentiles, has houses and lands beyond the walls of the city, and thou mayest bring this to the ears of the council also, and pray them to grant that we may extend our walls around all of Wash's possessions, and we will write it in our book also.

See to it, Samuel, that thou art very adroit. Let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth, for if this cometh to the ears of the Gentiles they will raise a great howl and send some one up to the council and give thee much trouble.

When Samuel appeared before the council they knew him and said unto him, What is it, Samuel?

And Samuel said unto them, Our tabernacle of learning is far on the way and will soon be completed, and the beauty and glory thereof will surpass all of the tabernacles in the land, but we find that it will not educate our sons and daughters without a Governor.

And we are poor and not able to pay a ruler to reign over them.

And we were again depressed in spirit and called upon the prophet Balaal and Balaal said, Thou shalt tax the people against an amount equal to that thou didst levy against them to build the house and that will enable thee to hire a Governor.

And he said, Write it in a book.

Here is the book; it is very short. And now I pray thee to place thy seal upon it.

We will not trouble the people about this little affair for they are rebellious and stiff-necked and will raise a great commotion over it.

And when they had placed their seal thereon Samuel said, Now there is another matter I wish to speak to thee about.

Wash, who I have told thee is a leader of the Gentiles, has great possessions and he has houses and lands that lie beyond the walls of the city.

And now I entreat thee to suffer us to extend our walls around all his possessions, for we are very poor and want every farthing.

But Richard was there who had been sent up from the hill country to represent ALL the people.

And Richard rose up and shook his head and said, Nay, Samuel, thou shalt not invade the precincts of the people and despoil them of their goods.

Thou shalt remain within the walls.

And Samuel was silent.

But this matter came to Wash's ears and he was exceeding wroth, and when Samuel had returned unto his brethren Wash met him and said unto him, Am

I dog that thou pursue me without the gates of the city?

But Samuel said, Nay; Wash we pursued thee not beyond the gates of the city. It was named by some of our number but I had compassion upon thee.

HURRAH for the HERALD, says ARTHUR.

CHAPTER VI.

And it came to pass the first day of the full moon Samuel and all the brethren were assembled within the inner court.

And Samuel presented the little book with the seal of the council upon it.

And they all clapped their hands and shouted for joy, and said, Now our sons and daughters are provided for and we will eat, drink and be merry. We will live upon oil and wine and grow fat.

And while they yet rejoiced Clarence raised his voice and said, Men and brethren, know ye that we, too, are taxed in that book and it will go hard with us to pay it. Is there not some way for us to make the yoke easy and the burden light?

And Samuel, the merchant, said, Yes, Clarence, there are many emoluments that we can divide among us and make it go easy with us.

And they immediately set about the work and allotted each one his portion.

They said that Frederic should furnish the sandals for their sons and daughters to wear upon their journey.

And Samuel, the merchant, said, They should be with garments, and they should be advertised all over the land and all men commended to buy of him.

Clarence should interpret the law and Alonzo should assess the people.

And Perry should oversee the fencing and the cleaning of the yard of the tabernacle and collect the taxes.

And Zachary should carry the bag and furnish the books and charts and attend to the sick.

And Seth should keep a record of all that happened and be spokesman for the crowd and curse the Gentiles when they are turbulent (but let no man see the record).

And Samuel should have a monument of glory erected to his memory.

Frank was excused and journeyed with them no longer.

And they said, We will make the Gentiles pay us for our labor. Then our taxes will go light with us.

For hath not Balaal cursed them for our sakes and decreed that they should be unto us as hewers of wood and drawers of water.

And one of them said, Behold how all things do work together for our good.

And when they had returned thanks they went out to cast about for a governor of the tabernacle.

And they advertised and noised it abroad.

When these things came to the ears of the people they were astonished and said, How is it, that all the emoluments have passed around in a circle?

And they said, Verily, this is the Court House Ring.

Humbugging Again.

I saw so much said about the merits of Hop Bitters, and my wife who was always doctored, and never well, teased me so urgently to get her some I concluded to be humbugged again; and I am glad I did, for in less than two months use of the Bitters my wife was cured and has remained so for eighteen months since. I like such humbugging.

Church Gossip.

SPRING LICK, Nov. 14, 1881.

A successful protracted meeting has just closed at Richland, Church, three miles from this place. Revs. C. Voyles and C. B. Phillips, of Ohio county conducted the meeting. There were ten additions and last Sunday week seven were baptized. Much good was accomplished and considerable interest manifested from the beginning to the end.

Bro. Voyles is the regular pastor of this church and is doing good work. There are now forty-nine members who are laboring with great earnestness in trying to build up the church to what it has been in former days.

THE Muhlenberg Echo is for Col. W. H. Yost, of Greenville, for Congress. The Echo speaks very highly of Col. Yost, and we can say that he deserves every word of praise bestowed on him.

WAYNE McVEIGH, Attorney General of the United States, presented his resignation to President Arthur last week. It was accepted, and Solicitor General Phillips will be Acting Attorney General until a successor is appointed and confirmed.

THE Atlas Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., failed last week and was closed out by the State authorities. The capital stock was only $100,000, and no loss falls on policy holders, as all property will be re-insured in other companies.

MR. FRANK GORDON, formerly connected with the Hawesville Democrat, will take charge of the Owensboro Post during the absence of Hon. G. V. Triplett at Frankfort this winter. Mr. Gordon is a live man and a good writer, and, as Triplett says, will make the Post howl when necessary.

THE Greenback party was at its foundation called by its enemies, and finally by itself, the "Flag-Baby." What it could be called now is a mystery, as it is smaller now than then, and is growing more deliciously delicate daily, yet the little thing holds the balance of power in Congress.

GOV. BLACKBURN asks us to be thankful that no pestilence has visited us since the last Thursday in November, 1880. This is a strange thing for Blackburn to ask when a pestilence made him Governor. It looks like he ought to be thankful to the pestilence.

A. R. BYERS, Esq., Representative elect from Grayson county, in view of the Constitutional prohibition of Ministers serving as members of the Legislature, has resigned the ministerial office by surrendering his credentials to Rev. WE used to hear the mothers in Israel talk about machines, traps and contrivances to catch maddlers, but they seem to have caught so many at one time that they went back on the proprietors, and have been unfit for use since—at least one would judge so from the vast numbers of the animals at large. A plague on this class of humanity would be welcomed by those who attend to their own business.

It is currently reported that in the next Congress steps will be taken leading to the enactment of laws replacing the duty on quinine. This, if effected, will undo the great work which has made Hon. J. A. McKenize famous as a benefactor of the whole West and South, where the drug is most used. The additional burden, caused by the imposition of the tax, will be very considerable in the aggregate as the article will almost double in price in a year's time. Nothing but Democracy and Democratic free trade will satisfy the tolling masses of the great agricultural sections of the country.

ONE of the most effectual refutations of the many lies told on the South by Northern papers is the recent reception of Gen. W. T. Sherman at the cotton exposition at Atlanta, Ga. On his march to the sea Sherman ordered the inhabitants out of the city and burned it to the ground. He was kindly and even enthusiastically received at the exposition and the people showed in every way that they had forgotten his brutal treatment of them during the war. Bloody-shirtism is dead save in the mouths of a limited number of sore-heads.

OCCASIONALLY we see the name of Dr. E. D. Standiford in the prints in connection with the candidacy for Governor at the next election to fill that office. Dr. Standiford would make a splendid executive officer.

THE Nelson County Record publishes a story entitled, "Why Sol Elder Changed His Mind," and credits it to this paper. Beg your pardon. The story is a pretty good one, but we never saw it before. Better a wrong credit than no credit at all.

THE Kentucky Court of Appeals has decided that a person charged with carrying a concealed deadly weapon may be tried either by summons or warrant of arrest in a Justice's Court, or before the County Judge, or upon indictment in the Circuit Court. Violators of the law may be punished in almost any way, but precious small is the number of those who are ever overtaken by the swift-footed minions of Justice.

THE Kentucky Press Association will meet in Frankfort during the coming winter, and it is more than probable that the Western Kentucky Press Association will meet at the same time and place. The object of the holding of the meeting at Frankfort is to secure the passage of necessary advertising laws. Much good can be done if the Association will turn its attention strictly to business. This it is hoped it will do.

HON. WALTER EVANS has been to Washington, and a great change in the civil service of Kentucky may be looked for. Gen. Eli Murray was the chief of the Kentucky Republicans under Garfield, and between Evans and Murray the most bitter personal enmity exists. Murray will doubtless be removed from his position as Governor of Utah very soon, and all the Murray Republicans will be removed from any and all positions occupied by them. The half-breed officials of the State are all trembling for the safety of their heads. It will require a great deal of party fidelity to stand the strain imposed on the present officials by their opponents.

THE International Monthly—whatever it is—is what Lorenzo Dow would have called a blasphemous liar. It says that homicide has been as destructive of human life in the South as yellow fever—40,000 deaths having occurred from the latter cause since the war. This is a sample of Northern Radical intelligence and fairness, and is about as near the truth as a Northern Radical can ever come. Homicides are quite too unpleasantly frequent in Kentucky and the South, but the North cannot show a better record. The daily papers show even a greater proportion of crime in the North than in the South, and it is a libel most foul to charge the South with all the crime of the nation.

PINK COTTAGE will soon be placed where it properly belongs on the list of humbug and things of the past. The last of four persons who were the first of the very disease which was so triumphantly stated by the advocates of the faith cure had been cured by the oil of the great revivalist. Great numbers of those supposed to have been cured have since relapsed, and it is now plain to all that from the beginning the whole thing rested solely on mental excitement and as soon as that was gone the disease was found to be still there with the additional strength acquired by neglect while the faith cure was at work. Every one who took that view of the case, the cure did more harm than good, and those who had experience with it will doubtless hereafter rely on medicine and common sense.

THE North American Review for December is in all respects a good number. The writers without exception are men eminently competent for the tasks assigned to them, while of the subjects discussed, there is not one which does not possess a living interest. Indeed, were one called upon to enumerate the contents that are to-day exercising men's minds, those treated of in this number of the Review would certainly occur to him among the first. The most important and most opportune of all the articles is one by Hon. John A. Kasson, entitled, "The Monroe Doctrine in 1881." In this statesmanlike paper, or proclamation, as it might not inaptly be called, and is certain to be regarded by foreign publicists, the obligation of the United States government to effectively assert its supremacy throughout the Western Hemisphere is demonstrated both by the arguments of authority and precedent, and upon the grounds of reason. Then follows a discussion of the Death Penalty, conducted by the Rev. Dr. Cheever, Judge Samuel Hand and Wendell Phillips. The policy of Mr. Gladstone's Government toward Ireland is strenuously defended by Mr. H. O. Arnold-Foster, son of the Chief Secretary for Ireland. This paper is confessedly an appeal to the judgment and the sympathy of Americans in the struggle now going on across the Atlantic, and is a graceful, practical admission that British statesmen are not indifferent to the enlightened public opinion of the United States. Four physicians and surgeons of the first rank, namely, Drs. W. A. Hammond, John Ashhurst, Jr., J. Marion Sims and John T. Hodges, review the history of President Garfield's case. Finally, the Hon. David A. Wells treats of Reform in Federal Taxation.

THE Bard-town Record is soon to appear in a new dress.

THE Willard Hotel Lottery has been postponed until February 14th, next. The drawing will then take place or money will be refunded to ticket-holders.

THE safe of a merchant named Mos-barger, at Cecil, was blown open Monday night and about $1,500 in cash taken out. No clue to the burglar has been obtained.

THE Republicans do not have a majority in the next Congress, as has been stated and believed. They have 146 and 147 is the number requisite to a majority. The Greenbacks really hold the key to the situation.

IN the Chronicle of last page read "Balaam," instead of "Balad," is heretofore. "John's in a cove" last week should have been "closes in action." Other little typographical errors may appear but they do not demand an explanation.

BUSINESS is reported as being good in all the great centers of the country, and local merchants report business as "never better." The drought was not so injurious after all that has been said about it, and with a good crop next year, the country will be placed on a better footing than ever before.

IN the card from W. C. C. in the HERALD of last week, expressing satisfaction with the course of Hon. R. P. Hooker while in the Legislature, the pronouns are used so as to make it appear that the satisfaction was an individual affair with W. C. C., which is not the case. Others were referred to in common with the writer.

WHILE Guitau was being taken from the Court to the jail, last Saturday, a man on horse-back fired at him wounding him very slightly in the wrist. The man who did the shooting was half a lunatic, but had sense enough to put spurs to his horse and go to the country. He was overtaken and arrested. No other event of interest connected with the trial has transpired.

THE Democratic voters of the county will take notice of the call by the Executive Committee for a mass convention to be held at Hartford, December 5, 1881, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the Appellate Convention which meets in Frankfort January 11, 1882. Every Democrat should make his choice for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, so that the delegates may be instructed in accordance with the controlling sentiment of the county Democracy.

ON the witness stand in Washington last week, a witness was proceeding to testify as to the facts in regard to the killing. Seville, Guitau's attorney, said, "Must we hear all this over again? I see no use in it. We admit the killing." Guitau jumped up and said, "We admit no such thing; we admit the shooting, but not the killing. The witness can now proceed." Robinson and Seville have quarreled and the former has retired from the case. Two or three lawyers from Chicago are expected in a day or two to assist Seville.

GUITAU is not insane. In the Court room last week he was constantly interrupting the proceedings, and his attorney, Seville, begged him to desist. Said he: "I know what I am doing, and this is the only way in which I can convince the jury that I am insane." He was overheard, and a feeling of indignation was aroused against him. The evidence, and particularly that of Secretary Blaine, does not show that he is insane, as everything connected with the assassination seems to have been thoroughly and deliberately planned and executed only too well. In Court, Friday, Guitau tried to raise a disturbance, and abused Seville very roughly, and allowed the Court itself to come in for a share. He may play crazy, but Justice should hold his head in shame if Guitau is not made to pay the death penalty for his crime.

A change of principles for policy's sake every time the wind is in an unfavorable quarter will, as it has done, cause honest people to lose faith in us and our fidelity to the faith once delivered to the guardians of our liberties by the Constitutional fathers. Stern, old-time Jeffersonian Democracy is the kind needed at this particular juncture.

—"That wonderful remedy for rheumatism, St. Jacobs Oil, has been used by a large number of people in this city, and with effect truly marvellous. —"Horse thieves are getting in a great deal of work in all parts of the State. Citizens should organize vigilance committees and use every means in their power to bring the rascals to justice. The Western remedy of hemp without trial is the best that can be applied, but of course it is not to be recommended except as a last resort.

—"Last Friday night a loose horse, the owner of which is not known, fell through the bridge, at this place, which is being repaired. The prospects for a fine crop next year are excellent, and if the farmers can bridge over this winter good times seem to await them in the sweet by and by.

—"The work of state making still goes on in almost every part of the county. In the Rough Creek flats above Hines Mills, Noah Ford has two yards containing over 1,000,000 staves each, and on the railroad from Beaver Dam up the road is lined with staves. Besides the vast numbers of staves, which are of prime oak timber, the quantity of heading is enormous. This latter is made of any thing from black gum to the finest oak. The stave business will bring a great deal of money into the county.

—"Mrs. Annie A. Smith, of Auburn, N. Y., writes: 'I had doctored for years and tried various advertised remedies for my complaint, which was general prostration. I believe I suffered every ill that flesh is heir to. The least exertion caused the greatest fatigue. I was tormented with dyspepsia and every irregularity. My blood seemed poisoned, and pimples and sores were all over my body; nothing I tried ever gave me more than mere temporary relief, and I felt myself growing worse and worse. Mr. Reynolds, the druggist, advised me to use Brown's Iron Bitters. From the very start I began to improve; now I do not feel like the same woman.'

—"The doctors said my wife had consumption. Tried 'Lindsey's Blood Searcher,' and she has better health than ever." G. H. Hubbard, Hampden, Ohio. 1m.

Something About Boots.

About the time the consumer of goods is laying in his supplies for the coming season, the manufacturer of the same goods is closing out his business for that season and preparing for the next; already has the manufacturer of boots and shoes adjusted his machinery, shaped his business, and put his men on to light work for summer wear. In these manufactures, of course, there are always odds and ends at the close of the season's work, which, though as good goods as any, the manufacturers are always anxious to clean out and get rid of, and shrewd merchants engage these odds and ends often six months in advance, because it is the custom of the manufacturer to sell them at about half price.

Some time ago S. W. Anderson negotiated with the celebrated Stark manufactory for a big lot of men's and boys' boots, which are now on the way and will be here next week. This will be a rare chance for persons needing any of these goods, as they are really great bargains, the only trouble being to find the size you may need, as the sizes run very irregular, but you will at least learn something about how boots and shoes are bought and sold by calling and seeing them at Anderson's Bazaar.

Price, 25 cents. 7-10-ly

J. T. CARTER, Rockport, Ky.

Caldwell County—Circuit Court and other matters.

Circuit Court is in session, Judge J. R. Grace presiding. The docket, I learn, is limited. One important case, however, is on docket, I refer to the case of the McHenry brothers for the murder of Urey Moss, some weeks ago. How it will terminate I have no idea. The opinion prevails among the masses, I believe, that the penalty ought to be heavy.

Business is very good with merchants just now. Real estate also has been in good demand and several estates have changed hands recently at good prices. The proposed new railroad may have something to do with this interest.

The Mrs. Rachel Broderick, of Waxahachie, Evansville, Ind., to Jackson, Tenn., which will, if built, connect this county with the entire South. Whether the road will be built remains to be seen. Many think it will. If it were sufficient to build a road this certainly be built.

I have time to write no more, as it is near mail time. More again. T. E. RICHES.

"How are you, my old friend?"

Asked a bright looking old man. "Oh, I feel miserable, I'm bilious and can't eat, and my back is so lame I can't work." "Why in the world don't you take Kidney-Wort? that's what I take when I'm out of sorts, and it always keeps me in perfect tune. My doctor recommends it for all such troubles." Kidney-Wort is the sure cure for biliousness and constipation. Don't fail to try it.—Long Branch News.

Editor Herald:

After a long silence I have again concluded to send you a few items from this part.

The health of the community is good at present excepting a few cases of cholera.

Miss Bertha Miller, who has been confined to her room the most of the time since last June, is thought to be improving.

A very large crop of wheat was sown in this section, and is now looking nice and green.
